MyHealthResults.com & Utah State University Extension Program Work Together on Community Outreach Classes

Acumen BioLogics, Inc. provides USU Extension Program Agents for Diabetes & Heart Health Community Classes with on-line software, testing and reporting to class participants.

Salt Lake City, UT----November 3, 2008 – Acumen BioLogics, Inc., a Utah –based biotech company, is providing Utah State University Extension Program Agents with affordable blood testing and Smart Health Reports™ to participants of their diabetes and healthy heart classes. Acumen BioLogics is providing agents aggregate data on participant improvements after the 12 weeks classes in an effort to continually improve course education and track course community impact.

Melinda O'Brien, CEO of Acumen BioLogics, Inc. said, "If people do not have affordable access to regular blood testing and cannot understand their lab results, then how can they see making diet and lifestyle changes taught in these classes can assist in disease prevention? We provide the tool to do just that with easy– to-understand results and education information for consumers in one web site. We believe - It's Your Health – You Should Know!"
